MALT WHISKY

The Tom Morris Bar's whisky list was curated by Glenturret's Global Brand Ambassador, Jamie Morrison. His passion for whisky and his thirst for understanding the history is evident when looking through his whisky list. He has managed to connect each whisky to a part of Tom's life. Tom helped design 80 golf courses and as such there are 80 whiskies to choose from, all with a nod to Tom and his course's.

There is also a special selection of 18 drams representing a day on a golf course, all with a story to tell. There is also a selection of three whisky flights to choose from to take you on a trip through Tom Morris's golfing world.

Jamie has also given us a tip on a few of his favourites - Glenturret 10 year Peat Smoked, Glenmorangie Quinta Ruban and the Glen Scotia Victoriana.

TOP 18 GOLF COURSE JOURNEY

All served is 35ml measures

- 1 Linkwood
Flower & Fauna
£7.80

The reason we have started on this dram is twofold, firstly because of the flavour profile, a light and floral dram that is a great starter for a round of golf. Fresh and vibrant for a great day. Secondly because the distillery was founded the same year as Tom Morris was born. We felt this was a nice synergy between the two which would make for a fitting starting point. The year of birth for Tom & the year of inception of the distillery.
- 2 Kingsbarns
Dream to Dram
£6.20

This distillery was chosen due to its proximity to where Old Tom Morris was born, a natural follow on point from our initial dram. Continuing the light, floral and fruity flavour profile we wanted to highlight the importance of locality and where better to look than the birthplace of the man himself.
- 3 Auchentoshan
Threewood
£7.20

Located in Clydebank Glasgow, we couldn't resist having this dram on the list. Proven a popular hit with golfers, the award winning Threewood brings with it a rich complexity. The fact that it is also a club everyone should have in their caddy bag meant it had to be on this list.
- 4 GlenKinchie 12
£6.30

This Lowland distillery is located half an hour inland from Muirfield, designed by Tom Morris in 1891. The course is home to the oldest verifiable organised golf club in the world. Glenkinchie is a cornerstone of Johnnie Walker - with its subtle leafy green notes and a characteristic nuttiness it's a dram that sits well for starting out on the golf course.
- 5 Deanston
£9.50

When Tom Morris made the alterations at Stirling Golf Course in 1892, little did he know that Deanston the cotton mill 82 years later would become the distillery we know today. Situated under 15 minutes away this distillery has a fascinating history. This whisky brings with it a floral, grassy and malty flavour. Perfect for relaxing into your round.
- 6 Glengoyne
Teapot Dram
£15

Established in 1833 Glengoyne is an hour from Prestwick Golf Course. Where in 1851 a mere 18 years later, Tom Morris designed a course so popular it went on to host its first Open Championship only 10 years after it was formed. This dram pays homage to the custom dram from a teapot popular in Tom's time. It is a dram to behold. Sherried and lively it will open up your mind to what you can achieve on the course if you put your mind to it. It is also very near another one of Tom's lesser known courses in Glasgow, Bearsden.

- 7 Glenmorangie Quinta Ruban
£7.50
- Already established for almost 50 years, we'd like to think Old Tom enjoyed a dram or two from this distillery whilst he worked on Tain course in 1890. A fine example of a port cask influence, this dram offers us a fruity spice balance which at hole 7 hones in our concentration and focuses us on the task at hand.
- 8 Glen Moray Rhum Agricole
£7.80
- When Tom Morris designed Moray Golf Club, the distillery we know so well today was producing Ales, its first spirit run was in 1897 only 8 years after Tom's course was completed. Did Tom enjoy any of the ale that was produced by the now Glen Moray, who knows. This dram finished in an ex Cask provides us with sweet, spicy and tropical fruit notes.
- 9 Glenfiddich Fire & Cane
£6.40
- This distillery was established in 1886, 3 years before the 1889 design of Moray Golf Club, situated 30 minutes away. An alternative look at rum cask finishes here, the slightest hint of smoke gives us caramelised tropical fruits and subtle sweetness.
- 10 Glenturret 10 Peat Smoked
£5.70
- The oldest distillery in Scotland, est 1763 kicks off the 10th hole with a 10 year peat smoke. The smokiness from the peat fire will give you the boost needed to lift your spirits on the back 10. As the smoke fades into embers it allows the sweet vanilla and citrus notes to come through alongside the smouldering heather. Glenturret Distillery is also only a couple miles away from the Crieff Golf Club which Tom designed and opened in 1891 as a 9 hole course originally. We'd like to think Tom may even have visited the distillery, on a break for designing the course.
- 11 Glen Scotia Victoriana
£10
- Glen Scotia of Campbeltown, which was once claimed to be the whiskiest town in Scotland, is situated just a few miles along from Machrihanish Golf Club. This golf club was founded in 1876 as a 9 hole course but 3 years later Tom redesigned it as an 18 hole course that has been ranked inside the 100 courses in the world in recent years. The mild smokiness from this whisky should lead you on nicely from the bigger hitting 10yo from the previous hole but keep you from any mid round slump.
- 12 Glenturret 12
£7
- A rich, complex yet subtle 12 year old to drive you forward on the 12th. Maintaining the link to Crieff & historic Glenturret distillery this is an exceptional dram which will spice up your round. Think spiced fruit cake, ginger balanced with sweet apple and walnuts. The perfect warming dram after a few hours on the course.
- 13 Glenmorangie Signet
£20
- As we know this distillery coming out of Tain, this whisky has been made using heavily roasted chocolate malt to make sure it really packs a punch. It is going to be nice and sweet with dried fruits but due to the chocolate malt you may also find dark chocolate and bitter coffee notes, which will help you focus your game and perhaps feel more alert before coming down the home straight.

- 14 Glendronach 15
£9
- Glendronach is situated near a few of the courses Tom designed, its closest to Cullen but also close by is Moray and in the other direction Cruden Bay. Glendronach are the self-proclaiming connoisseurs of sherry casks they have created almost a desert in a glass, with cherries, dark chocolate honey and may well have been enjoyed after a Cullen skink that was created in Cullen. So who knows, this could have been Tom's lunch time choice after designing Cullen Golf Club.
- 15 Tomatin 15 Moscatel Wine
£10.50
- Tomatin is just a short drive to Nairn Golf Club and Nairn Dunbar Golf Club, both of which Tom helped design. Tomatin distillery and Tom's alterations of Nairn Golf Club were both around 1897. Whilst we can't be sure if Tom ever got to try any of their whiskies back then, this interesting 15year old Moscatel wine cask has almost a fruit and nut bar on the nose. Salted caramel on the palette with more of those dried fruits and citrus notes being enhanced by the wine cask aging and a slight buttery creaminess.
- 16 Springbank 21
£30
- Back to Campbeltown where Tom had designed Machrihanish comes this special distillery's 21 year old. Always brought out in small numbers, we thought we would start this run in to the clubhouse with this highly sought after dram. When drinking this whisky, it will transport you to being right on the edge of the West Coast looking out to the North Atlantic Ocean from Macrihanish Golf Club getting a sense of Tom Morris's mind whilst he was designing the course.
- 17 Arran 25 Single Cask
£38
- Arran, although being a small Island is actually very close to one of Tom's most famous courses, Prestwick. After Tom had designed the course in 1851, it hosted the first ever Open Championship in 1860, won by Willie Park Snr beating Tom by 2 shots, but Tom would get his revenge the following year winning his first Open Championship at Prestwick. Although Arran is relatively new on the scene, they have been quick to gain reputation in producing great single malts and now they have been going for 25 years their older and rarer whiskies are now available but in very limited bottles. What a great way to set you up for the final hole.
- 18 Glenturret 30
£175
- And what a way to finish, the oldest bottling from the oldest distillery in Scotland in their newly launched 2020 maiden release range. With only 750 bottles released, you can count on being in the small minority of people who will ever taste this whisky. Expertly created by the world-renowned whisky maker, Bob Dalgarno, this 30-year old spirit has beautiful tropical notes, vanilla working alongside fresh green apple and pear all balanced with the oak it has been sleeping in for 30 long years.
